'Why Don't You Reregister Now?'

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

AT STANFORD

Emo Barghini, Daly City, arrived at the Stanford university center, June 20, for training with the U. S. Army. His grade is corporal.

PRISONER OF WAR

On the first day of July, the War department made public the names of more than seven hundred soldiers held prisoners of war by Japan. Among them was First Sergeant Henry F. Scally, son of Mrs. Clara Carson Scally, 301 Vista Grande avenue.

AVIATION CADET

Harry C. Smith, 28 Klamath, Brisbane, is now a Pre-Aviation cadet at the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command's Basic Training Center (No. 5), at Kearns, Utah, it is announced by Colonel Converse R. Lewis, Post Commander.

Private Smith attended Jefferson Union high school at Daly City, and Santa Clara college. Prior to his enlistment for aviation cadet training he was a lithographer.

Cadet Smith is the son of Mrs. G. C. Smith of the same address.

Thousands of cadets are now being ordered to active service, and a large per cent of these men take their basic training at Kearns.

NOW LIEUTENANT

"Somewhere in Africa" promotion to lieutenant came for Ralph E. Clark, well known Daly City man who is with the quartermaster corps of the U. S. Army Air Forces. Word of his commission was received here, this week, by his wife, Mrs. Frances Clark.

Clark, a graduate of Jefferson Union high school, and a volunteer for service in 1941, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Clark, 251 Wellington avenue. He also attended San Mateo junior college. He has been overseas since last September.

His parents and wife have just returned to Daly City after spending 2 weeks at Santa Cruz.

AT FARRAGUT

Thomas Jerrold Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Martin, 275 Los Olivos avenue, and Ralph Glenn Capps, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Capps, 345 Winchester street, have begun their recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training station at Farragut, located in the mountains of northern Idaho.

During their first few weeks at Farragut they are being taught military discipline, the fundamentals of seamanship and are undergoing physical training. Upon completion of recruit training, they will be given opportunity to qualify for one of the Navy's service schools for additional specialized training in a chosen field. Both are graduates of Jefferson Union high school.

IN COLORADO

Private William C. Tallmadge, 351 Woodrow street, Daly City, is now a member of the Army Specialized Training unit in basic engineering at the Colorado School of Mines, Golden, Colorado.

Private Tallmadge is the son of O. H. Tallmadge and is a graduate of the California School of Mechanic Arts.

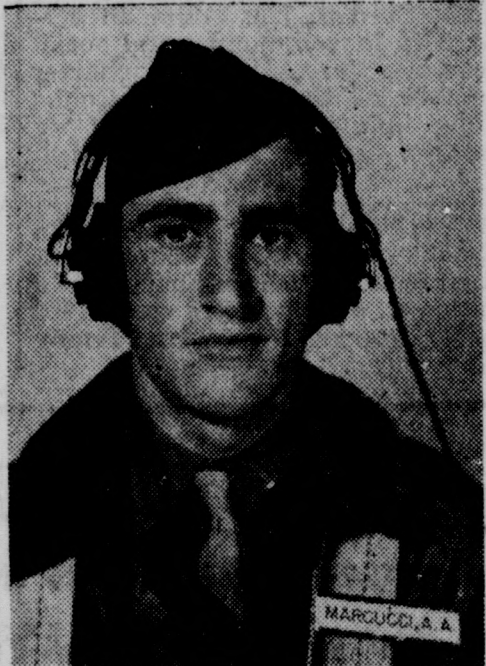

Prior to his assignment to engineering training at the School of Mines, he was stationed with the 804th Signal Training regiment at Camp Crowder, Missouri.

At the Colorado School of Mines, which normally offers training in mineral industry engineering, the student soldiers will receive basic engineering training for nine months, and after the successful completion of this training will take up advanced engineering for from nine to twelve months more. Following the completion of the entire course of training, they will be considered for officer candidate school.

SILVER WINGS

The ranks of the men "who are already invading the continent of Europe" received a four-fold addition, June 24, as large classes of bomb-wise "Hell from Heaven Men" were graduated from the schools of the West Texas Bombardier Quadrangle, Midland, Texas.

With twelve weeks of intensive training behind them at the Midland, San Angelo, Big Springs or Childress bombardier schools, these bombardier graduates will go on to assignments at Army Air Forces navigation schools, to operational training units or to posts as instructors for future classes of lords of the bombsight.

Among those who received their silver bombardier wings, was Andrew A. Marcucci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Marcucci, 443 Bellevue avenue.

Especially notable in the training of this latest group of bombardiers was the increased emphasis on combat tactics, and the simulation of combat conditions throughout the period of their curriculum in Axis blasting.

Combat camps, where the bombardier students live under conditions approximating those of outpost fighting stations, have been set up at schools of the West Texas Bombardier Quadrangle; and the tyro Hell from Heaven Men, living in tents and on short rations, learn to do everything from kitchen police to repairing their airfield, and do it by themselves.

Marcucci was graduated from Jefferson Union high school in 1940.

REPORTER REPORTS

"Bob" Baker, popular Daly City Record reporter, who for more than two years covered the city beat here, is now Private John Robert Baker, a member of the Medical Training regiment at Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas.

In his letter to Publisher Boynton, this week, Bob said, "The Army is a great institution and basic training is all the nasty things that my eight million predecessors have said it was—that is, of course, from a private's point of view. From a tactical viewpoint, brother, that's what is winning the war for us, and it is a h--- of a lot worse on the Nazis than on us buck privates."

AWAITS ASSIGNMENT

Having completed a 16-week course for machinist's mates at the U. S. Naval Training school on the campus of the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas, Serafino Ragni, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ragni, 134 Acton street, Daly City, is awaiting assignment to active duty aboard ship or at a shore station. He has been given the rating of fireman, first class.

He was one of the 200 Blue-

That's What C. D. Director Bodien Would Like To Know

Civilian Defense Effectiveness Imperiled

Director of Civilian Defense A. J. Bodien cast about today for strong enough exhortations to get reregistration forms filled out and filed by Daly City's hundreds of volunteers. The columns of The Record have been full of phrases like "vitally essential," "of major importance," "immediate necessity," but the resultant stack of forms turned in could be found only with the use of a microscope and a brace of detectives.

The reregistration is requested by the national Office of Civilian Defense and no compensation will be allowed volunteers injured on civilian defense duty unless such a form is filed with the local headquarters. Titled "Personnel Record—U. S. Citizens Defense Corps," the form could not possibly require more than 15 minutes of the volunteer's time in completing.

Once the new forms are filled out, they will serve the dual purpose of giving the federal authorities a list on which they can base insurance claims occasioned by possible raids, and of reactivating the local civilian defense setup.

Bodien and other leaders in the home protection field here pointed out that only such a reregistration makes it possible to ascertain with certainty who is a well-prepared civilian defense worker, where he lives, or even if he still lives here. Heads of all services were advised to secure forms for those under their jurisdiction at the city hall headquarters, Room 2, 75 Wellington avenue, at once. Now is also the time for those who have not as yet enrolled in civilian defense to do so. Volunteers are badly needed to augment the ranks, which have been dangerously depleted by wartime population shifts, lethargy, and other factors.

Response to the call for reregistration has been, in plain language, "totally inadequate," according to Bodien. "We have to know where we stand," he said.

There will be a drill for control board personnel following the

Announce Games For Sunday, July 11

With senior teams of the Peninsula Summer Baseball league idle over the holiday weekend, Daly City's Farallone Packer Juniors staged the only contest of the day, Sunday, at Marchbank park. Scheduled to meet the N. C. B. M. A. Juniors at 11 a. m., their opponents failed to appear, as did one of the squads slated to play in the afternoon.

As a consequence, a match was

Lions Club Gets Sea Scout Charter

At yesterday's meeting of the Daly City-Colma Lions club the charter for Sea Scout Ship No. 144, "The Sea Lion," sponsored by the local service club, was presented. It signified that the local Lions club, having made proper application through its duly authorized representative to carry out the program of the Boy Scouts of America, has been granted an annual charter.

The ship committee is composed of Bert Meritt, chairman; John Newton, Dr. William J. Lanthorne, William J. Sweeney, Robert Fessenden, and R. E. Bennett. Skipper is Frank Coughlin, while mates are Frank Blauert, Jim Coughlin, and Jack Coleman.

The sea scout program of Ship No. 144 plays an active part in Daly City youth programs and since its inception has shown progress of an outstanding type.

OPA RELEASES JULY FOOD INFORMATION

NEED VOLUNTEERS

Are you doing any war service work now?

If not, perhaps you'd like to lend a hand with the rationing program, which has urgent need of more volunteers at once. Miss Genevieve Blue, chief clerk at War Price and Rationing Board No. 83-12-3, which serves the Daly City area, said, this week, that in order to handle the large volume of work occasioned by the "A" gasoline book renewals the board would have to rely on the assistance of public spirited volunteers.

Anyone who could devote a few hours or a few days a week to this important phase of the home-front war job may do so by calling at the 470 Grand avenue, South San Francisco, headquarters. Office experience, although very helpful, is not essential for volunteer workers.

Crocker P. T. A. At Service Center

Currently handling hostess duties at the Daly City Servicemen's club, 6201 Mission street, are members of Crocker P. T. A. Next week, July 11 to 17 inclusive, Cypress Circle No. 14, U. A. O. D., will be in charge.

According to Mrs. Anne Eason, Mrs. Maisie Boyle, and Mrs. Margaret Steele, who direct the center, attendance has continued to increase and the boys have expressed their appreciation for such a "homey" place to drop in for reading, writing letters, dancing, games, or just pleasantly "loafing."

Residents are invited to stop by the club and see just what sort of recreation room is furnished soldiers stationed in this area. Donations of time and funds are still needed.

Will Hold Canning Program At Jeff

Miss Elizabeth Jones, home economics instructor at Jefferson Union high school, announced today that although no definite date when pressure cookers would be available for the use of Daly City housewives had been set, the program would definitely be held. She advised interested women to write to the high school, 6996 Mission street, and leave their names, addresses, and telephone numbers.

It is planned to have competent instructors and a number of pressure cookers at the cooking room at Jefferson high for the free use of local women. The schools are making this effort to provide SAFE methods of canning for women here. There is danger of botulism, especially in the canning of vegetables, when fool-proof methods of canning are not used. The pressure cooker, when properly used, precludes the danger of this dire toxin.

Launch Scrap Records Campaign

Daly City Post and Auxiliary No. 410, American Legion, are joining in the nation-wide campaign to gather scrap records so the fighting men can enjoy bits of entertainment and music from home. The drive dates are July 3 to 31 inclusive, and all local residents are asked to get their old records together for contributing to the campaign now. Pick-up depots for the Daly City area will be announced in the July 15 issue of The Record, according to A. G. K. Jakobsen, district chair-

Make Seventeen Changes In Value Of Processed Foods

Confine Reductions To "Vegetable" Group

In its new official table of point values for processed foods, effective July 4, the Office of Price Administration made seventeen changes in point values, twelve upward and five downward.

In addition, the value of one container size in the vegetable and fruit juice classification is changed. The weight bracket "over 7 ounces including 10 ounces" is reduced in point value from two to one point. The cut applies to all items in the juice classification, except pineapple juice. Reductions of about 50 per cent had been made "across the board" in vegetable juices in the June table, effective until Sunday, July 4, but the value of this single container size is reduced further because it was lagging behind other container sizes in the movement into consumption.

All reductions in the July table of point values are confined to the group "canned or bottled vegetables." They range from about 21 per cent to over 50 per cent and affect all weight brackets of the following:

Fresh shelled beans, green or wax beans, tomato pulp or puree, tomato sauces containing over five per cent dry tomato solids, and tomato sauce in combination package with cheese. (The net changes made in these and other items are listed later.)

Point value advances are made in seven vegetable items, and in five canned and bottled fruits. These increases range from around five per cent for vacuum-packed whole kernel corn to over 50 per cent for tomato catsup or chili sauce. Processed foods that are marked up are as follows:

Apples, apricots, fruit cocktail, peaches, pears, fresh lima beans, vacuum-packed whole ker-

Fourth Was Quiet Or Anyhow Almost

Daly City observed a quiet Fourth of July. Along with the rest of the nation, the home-front here forewent the usual number of fireworks casualties and serious traffic accidents.

Traffic cases were those of any "normal" week end. Three drivers will appear before Judge William J. Sweeney, tomorrow afternoon, July 9, to face charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and one man has been sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

On July 1 at 10 p. m., John Peter Cannon, 1 Lee avenue, San Francisco, driving a Buick sedan south on San Jose avenue, sped through "the top of the hill" at 45 miles per hour and down Mission at 60 miles per hour. Officer Roland Petrocchi gave chase but could not stop him until he had reached Woodlawn cemetery. He was found to be intoxicated; his car had no brakes, and he indulged in abusive insults directed at the officer. He was jailed on nel corn, and other canned corn, peas, tomatoes, tomato catsup or chili sauce, and tomato paste.

The point value changes reflect the general movement of processed foods from store counters into consumption.

Canned apples were moving too rapidly, and a sharp point rise was posted to check the drain on current supplies. Moderate point advances were made in apricots, peaches, pears, and fruit cocktail, which were also moving faster than desired.

The words "apricot, peach or pear juice or nectar" are substituted for the words "fruit nectars" which appeared in the June table. As a result of the change, the only fruit nectars which are rationed are apricot, peach and pear nectars and they are rationed whether labeled nectar or juice. Point values of the three nectars now specifically listed remain as before—at two points per pound. All other nectars are point-free.

In the vegetable group, corn, lima beans, peas, and tomatoes were going out faster than advisable, and the brakes had to be applied to the movement in order to retain stocks in trade inventories until new production of these canned items is available. Supplies of tomato catsup or chili sauce, and of tomato paste, reached low levels during June. Therefore, substantial point advances had to be made in these items to protect the waning supply. Tomato sauces and puree, however, were cut to less than half their June point values.

The new July table is the fifth to be issued since processed foods rationing started. It comes at a time when, for the first time, the actual flow of new production into trade channels is expected to exceed the outgo. However, it is necessary during this new period, when new packs are being canned, to conserve part of the pack for future months when fresh fruits and vegetables are no longer available in great quantity for the consumer to eat or for the canner to pack. OPA must adjust point values to regulate the flow into consumption so that our available supplies, and estimated new packs, will last through the off season.

Starting July 1, three new blue stamp series, "N", "P", and "Q", became valid, and will continue good through August 7. Taken by typical sized containers, the changes in July point values of processed foods compare as follows with the June point values. (This list does not include items that are unchanged from June.)

charges 502 and 670 of the California Vehicle Code and Judge Sweeney set bail at $100. His fine of $100 was suspended but he was given 30 days in the county jail.

At 12:25 a. m., July 4, Officer George Savage stopped Pietro Dittamo, 119 Prague street, San Francisco, as he drove his Hupmobile sedan south on Mission street in an erratic manner. When taken from behind the wheel he was found to be intoxicated and was jailed. His car was taken to Daly City garage and bail set at $50. At 9:10 a. m. he was released on payment of $50 cash bail to appear tomorrow, July 9, at 2 p. m.

Floyd Smith, Azusa, California, was jailed in Daly City, July 4, at 8:10 p. m. Officer Henry Sundermann jr. overtook his 1941 Mercury sedan as he drove it east on Hillcrest, north on Mission and San Jose in an erratic manner. Stopped at Flournoy street he was found to be in a drunken condition. His car was sent to Daly City garage. Later the same evening he was released on payment of $50 cash bail to appear July 9, 2 p. m., at traffic court. He was given the release of his car.

Another case of "driving while drunk" occurred July 4, 8:20 p. m., when Officer Sundermann stopped James Engledow, 7119 Mission street, for doing 60 miles per hour in his La Salle sedan as he drove north on Mission street from School street to Hillcrest drive. He was jailed and bail set at $50 cash. He was released on payment of the bail to appear July 9, at traffic court.

At 7 a. m., July 4, Hilltop Lodge reported that some one had broken into the tavern the night before and ransacked the place. Officers Walter Davis and Bert Wester investigated and found that the thief had broken through a screen at the back of the building. Several cigarette and amusement machines had been forced and cash taken from them. There were no clues or tools left behind on the premises.

Another case which will be reviewed at tomorrow's court session is that of Rema Hoyt West, 27 Hillcrest drive, who got into a fight with a sailor at Hillcrest drive and Mission street, Monday night, June 28, at 11:25 p. m. When Officers Sundermann and Petrocchi tried to break it up, West turned his yen to fight in their direction. He was jailed and reported as "had been drinking." The next day he was released on payment of $50 cash bail, reduced from $100, to appear in court, July 9.

Other police reports dealt with lost ration books, barking com-

They Were New Shirts But They Lost 'Em!

The Army boys from Fort Daly City had brand new shirts for their encounter with the keggers of Conci's Shell Service, Friday night, July 2, but they lost 'em just the same. This makes the third straight series the lieutenants have lost to the civilians.

The Army never gives up, though, and just to prove it they will be back for more, tomorrow night, July 9, 7 p. m. at Lincoln Bowl, when they face Conci's team again.

Albert Sordelli On Road To Recovery

In an automobile collision, Saturday, June 24, Albert Sordelli, partner at Vista Grande market, was seriously injured. Taken to Saint Luke's hospital, Sordelli was found to have suffered a brain concussion, broken ribs, chest and other injuries. He was unconscious for several days, but is now well on the way to recovery.

With his partner Raymond Raffo, Sordelli has operated the Vista Grande market at the top of the hill for more than twenty years. He lives with his family at 1006 Geneva avenue.

Having Trouble Getting Help?

So are we. Like you, we're faced with the biggest production job in our history. And, like you, we've lost many of the men who used to help us.

Yet that's only part of the story. Every day, on farm and factory, there's something new to test the skill of those running the business. Not only getting help, but—to mention a few others—rising costs, making a fair profit, and setting aside reserves for a rainy day. Essentially, those problems are the same for farm and factory, though they may at times differ in size.

But it is that thing called "management," that peculiarly American ability to think through problems no matter how tough, that is helping to see us through today.

It is this skill in management that farmers and businessmen have most in common, a skill which insures the realization of our determination to produce all that's needed for our country today, and, tomorrow, to make a fair living through greater service to our fellow Americans. Yes, it's true our ranks have thinned. Many of our associates are now serving with the armed forces. Grave new problems confront us. The call of duty leads to longer hours, heavier burdens. But we are glad to have the skill and the strength to serve to the utmost in this time of need.

We ask your patience, and your friendly co-operation in meeting the unusual conditions of today. With your help, we shall protect and defend our community—keep you well and working for Victory.

GAS TAX

Richard E. Collins, chairman of the State Board of Equalization, revealed today that the California gasoline tax based on May business was only 13.2 per cent less than the corresponding figure for the same month of last year, despite the fact that rationing was not then in force.

Announcing completion of a tax assessment of $4,203,676 on the basis of the distribution of 140,122,545 gallons of motor vehicle fuel during May, Collins contrasted this with the tax of $4,844,276 assessed last year on 161,475,880 gallons. He pointed out that the current figure marks a decline of only $640,600 in the monthly tax yield.

Ask Property Owners To List All Vacancies

County War Housing Center Requires No Fee

Louis Lengfeld, manager, this week issued an appeal to Daly City and other San Mateo county property owners, to assist in the War Housing program by listing their property with the unit of the National Housing agency at 1615 Floribunda avenue, Burlingame. There is no charge for registering accommodations for rental and Lengfeld stressed the importance of finding housing for the needs of the war effort.

"An Army unit has asked us to find 35 rooms with cooking privileges near El Camino Real between Burlingame and Redwood City during the next thirty days," reports Lengfeld, "and we have only 12 available. A War industry has asked us to find furnished rooms near the bus running along Bayshore boulevard for 50 women during the next two weeks and we have only 17 such vacancies listed. Another industry has asked us to obtain rooms near the Market Street Railroad for 35 men next week. Yet another needs rooms near the Bayshore bus for 60 men during the next thirty days. And one of the Armed Services asks us to house 320 single men near the Bayshore. Bus—the men to arrive between July 1 and the end of the year. We have only 70 rooms available for these 415 men."

Among those attending the party were: Miss Donna Davis, Miss Mary DeNegri, Ted Ekers, Miss Madge Brenzle, Lloyd Arthurs, Bill Freeman, Miss Barbara Gregor, Eugene Thelarducci, Walt Cavagnaro, Miss Sue Foster, Earl Johnson, Miss McDonnell, Jack Murry, John Mosman, Miss Marilyn Mosman, Bob Olsen, Ken Hatt, Miss Kay Lyons, Miss Verna Moresco, Franklin Petiti, Miss Virginia Nestor, Miss Rich, Miss Ethel Rockey, Paul Underhill, Miss Doris Vernsigo, Bill Wright, and the two honored guests.

Mail Those "A" Applications Early

Motorists having a basic "A" gasoline rationing status were advised by the Wartime Motoring Information bureau of the California State Automobile association to mail application for renewal as soon as possible to avoid last minute rush and overtaxing of rationing board personnel.

Renewal applications are available at local rationing boards, service stations, and at all offices of the automobile association.

Upon mailing application to local ration board, accompanied by tire inspection record showing at least one inspection, and the signed back cover of the current "A" book, renewal books will be mailed to applicants and become valid July 22. Current "A" books expire July 21.

Address of the board serving Daly City, War Price and Rationing Board No. 83-12-3, is 470 Grand avenue, South San Francisco.

WHY WE FIGHT

To win this war our men must fight courageously—and they have. But it is equally essential to victory that they have a clear, convincing answer to the question, "Why am I fighting?" It is vital to morale. The Army has recognized this fact and its Special Service division is preparing—among other things—a series of motion pictures setting for the historical facts leading up to the conflict, from which men may draw their own answer.

Amazing as it may seem, it is now apparent that many American soldiers have fought and died bravely without fully realizing just what they were fighting for. Soldiers in the South Pacific were asked by an Army chaplain "Why are you in the war?" Often they could find no answer except that they had been drafted. In North Africa many soldiers admitted that they didn't know what the "shooting was all about."

The interest of Americans in world affairs has increased greatly in recent years, but the tendency to "think on the surface" has presented many from fully grasping the basic issues which underlie this global struggle.

The man who knows the "why" as well as the "how" of the battle not only will make a better soldier, but a more valuable citizen when it's all over. He then will be armed with an understanding that will enable him to participate intelligently in shaping the post-war world so that there need never be another war to be explained.

COLLEGE CAMPUS

Most college campuses in the country now are arsenals manned by soldiers and sailors who march to and from class, singing to make it seem pleasanter. The dreamy pre-Pearl Harbor look is gone. No time to sit under the campus tree in summer sunshine, while bees and birds and butterflies flit by. All is changed.

Thousands of faculty members of colleges and universities throughout the country have left their classrooms to enter the armed services or war industries. From our own campus of the University of California, some 400 faculty members have gone forth to war.

It's to be hoped, however, that the importance of education—and a broader education than war subjects permit—will remain clear in the minds of the public. We must keep afloat the one hope of democracy—education for all.

HORSE SENSE

As a sedative to numb the fear of public debt, the people have been told that no harm could result from the debt because the people merely owed it to themselves.

Harold G. Moulton, head of the Brookings Institute, has knocked the "owe it to yourself" theory into a cocked hat in a booklet entitled, "The New Philosophy of Public Debt." He shows that those who pay taxes to support the debt are not identical with those who receive the interest on the debt or the government bounties which the debt makes possible.

While the people may owe the public debt to themselves, the man who is taxed to pay interest on the debt will soon find that the tax collector will take his shirt if he does not pay his taxes, to pay interest on a debt which he "owes to himself."

Moulton blasts the idea that public debt can go on growing forever without doing any harm. His remarks shoot close to financial and economic advisors of the government, and to the National Resources Planning board.

He makes it brutally clear that deficit spending and boundless public debt lead either to totalitarianism or to debt repudiation, and that without "a stable system of public finance . . . in the United States, and also in other countries, the foundation stone for international reconstruction will rest on quicksand."

His analysis is just plain horse sense which most everybody understood until they were hypnotized with the suggestion that prosperity could be brought about by priming the pump continuously with public funds. He does not try to prove that government debt is bad, but he does insist that it must be controlled.

The time will come when in spite of all the primings, the pump will suck air if the water supply is exhausted. The earnings of the people are the water in the financial well. Those earnings must come from individual effort and production which depend on prosperous operating industries and agriculture. The pump primers produce no new water.

"Claudia," Radiant Comedy By Rose Franken Ends Geary Engagement, Soon

"Claudia," the radiant comedy by Rose Franken, will end its engagement at the Geary theatre, San Francisco, Saturday evening, July 17. Seldom in the history of the theatre has there been a more popular or successful play which has made stage history.

John Golden, the producer, sent the New York company, headed by Frances Starr, Donald Cook, Phyllis Thaxter and Olga Baclanova to the Pacific coast, and a measure of "Claudia's" favor is due to the excellent acting of this quartette of stars as well as to the other original members of the supporting cast.

"Claudia" is a global hit; four companies toured this country at the same time and the play was an enormous success in Australia, Sweden, and it is still current in London. It played for 722 times on Broadway, New York, which is a record, while extended engagements were enjoyed in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, and other important cities throughout the country.

"Claudia" has gained friends as a series of magazine stories, between the covers of five novels and as a radio serial. Its greatest success, however, has been as a stage comedy. It is estimated that more than a million and a half people have acclaimed the piece as the most human and humorous play presented on the stage for a decade.

The successful run at the Geary theatre in San Francisco is forced to a close because of the booking of Max Gordon's timely comedy, "The Doughgirls" on July 19. During the remainder of the run, performances will be given nightly, including Sunday, with bargain matinees on Saturday and Sunday. Special attention will be given to out-of-town mail orders and reservations.

Our Job Is to Save Dollars
Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKoun

BACK in 1940, after the Nazi onrush through Holland and France, many were still saying, "This is not our problem." Not so

Walter Lippmann, columnist and political analyst. At that time he wrote, eloquently exhorting Americans to arouse from their "sleepwalking" to the desperate peril that overhung our nation.

Walter Lippmann has long been a fearless fighter for causes in which he believes. In his nine years on the New York World, he was able to rouse public opinion and guide it in many matters of social reform. In recent years, as columnist for one of the largest syndicates, his opinions and beliefs have influenced a nationwide audience.

His new book, "U. S. Foreign Policy," which is a Book-of-the-Month Club selection for July, is a thought-provoking work that probes deep into one of the most critical problems affecting this nation. Mr. Lippmann's thesis is that the United States has had no unified and effective foreign policy since 1900. That, he says, is why we blundered into the First World War, why the attempted world settlement afterward was bungled, why we were unable to prevent a second war. The future security of the United States, Mr. Lippmann argues, rests on an alliance between this country, Great Britain and Russia.

You may or may not agree with the thesis advocated by the author of "U. S. Foreign Policy." Nevertheless, this is a book sure to arouse extensive controversy and to be widely read and discussed.

Corey Ford, in "Short Cut to Tokyo," a first-hand report of what our boys are doing in the Aleutians, tells this sad story about a little bombardier named Sammy, from New York's East Side. It seems that after Sammy won his bombardier's wings, he got engaged to a girl and he went downtown to buy her a ring. "It costs five hundred smackers," Sammy explains, "but when I tell the jeweler I'm a bombardier, he claps me on the back and says, 'My boy, I'll knock off a hunnerd bucks for every bomb you drop on Germany.' So what happens?" Sammy sighed. "So I get sent to Alaska."

One of the many famous anecdotes about George Bernard Shaw tells of the time he was invited to a luncheon party by Lady Randolph.

In response to the invitation, Shaw sent a telegram saying: "Certainly not. What have I done to provoke such an attack on my well-known habit?" To which Lady Randolph replied in another telegram: "Know nothing of your habits; hope they are not as bad as your manners." Instantly, a long and apologetic letter from the great dramatist arrived, and he himself appeared at the luncheon. Lady Randolph of this story was an American girl named Jennie Jerome. Her husband was Lord Randolph Churchill, her son, Winston Churchill. René Kraus has written the story of her life in the entertaining biography, "Young Lady Randolph."

Eagles To Plan Another Ladies Night

Plans for another Ladies Night to be held in the near future will be made at the meeting of Colma Vista Grande Aerie No. 1848, F. O. E., tonight, July 8, at Eagles hall.

Roy Allain, new president, is well on his way to making his quota of sixty new members during his term. Fifteen new members have been initiated during his first month in office. Next initiation will be held, Thursday, July 22.

Mel Battye, junior past worthy president, has been appointed by the State aerie to serve on the publicity committee for San Mateo county.

Launch Scrap Records Campaign

man for both San Mateo county and Daly City.

"There are more than 200,000,000 old phonograph records lying around homes in the United States. Our fighting forces long for music and entertainment. Shows are impossible. Radio receivers are banned. Records and portable phonographs give the only possible answer.

"It is almost impossible to describe the uplift in morale that recorded music from home gives our boys sitting around in the darkness of a hot jungle night or in the vast reaches of Alaska mountains. Sailors on transports or patrol duty far from home must depend entirely on phonographs for entertainment.

"One soldier in New Guinea writes his mother asking her to dig up the old records he played when a boy and turn them in as scrap so new records can be made for the armies. Records are made of shellac. Shellac is frozen in the United States. India, the source of supply, is not exporting shellac.

"So scrap records must be obtained. It's the only way shellac can be obtained for new records. And it requires approximately three old records to make one new one. We must have every old record we can find," Jakobsen stated.

"Truly this is another all-out effort," State Chairman A. H. Meyer says. "That the need is urgent is revealed by the letters from service men who are hungry for some music and by the appeals of returned fighters who have felt the need of mental relaxation out there in the battle areas.

"We are particularly happy to have the assistance of the United States Army organization. This is still another evidence of the necessity of the campaign. Stars of screen and radio are standing by to make the new records and the manufacturers are ready to turn them out as fast as the material rolls in. There will be no time extension on the drive. It will end July 31. This means every wheel must start turning immediately and the effort must have the co-operation of every man, woman and child in the state if California is to set the pace for the other states."

Officially the campaign is known as "More Records for Our Fighting Men, Inc.," and all local residents and organizations are urged to support this non-profit drive to assist the armed forces.

arranged on the spot, and the Juniors went on to beat Drewes Meats players, 5 to 1. Although well past the 15-year age limit of the locals, the Drewes men managed only one hit off the pitching of Quinones for the little Packers. The Daly City boys were leading, 2 to 1, until the last of the eighth inning when a couple of wild throws allowed the additional three runs.

For next Sunday, the senior Packers will continue to hold the league lead with a bye on that date, while the local diamond will be the scene of a game between the Owls and Simmons company, now occupying fourth and fifth ratings, respectively, in the circuit. Manager Charles Norry's Packers will fill in the day with a non-league tilt against the Sherry Liquors, Sunday afternoon, at the Harrison diamond at Father Crowley's playground, Seventh and Bryant streets.

Local Juniors will have their regular 11 o'clock game at Marchbank park, although their opponent has not yet been announced, according to Louis Marioni, manager.

To Hold Annual Fuchsia Show Here

Do you like fuchsias?
If you do, there will be an excellent opportunity to see many new and colorful varieties of this flower at the third annual fuchsia show, Saturday, July 10, and Sunday, July 11, at Bungalow nursery, Hillside boulevard, Colma.

The show is sponsored by the San Francisco branch of the American Fuchsia society and all members and friends are invited to attend, free of charge. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Werle, proprietors of Bungalow nursery, issued a special invitation for Daly City and Colma enthusiasts to join the crowds at their "Hall of Flowers," Saturday and Sunday, and enjoy the show. Hours are noon to 8 p. m., Saturday, and 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., Sunday.

The fuchsia is a plant of the evening primrose family with drooping four-petaled flowers. Many local residents make use of it in their flower gardens as it grows well in this locality and lends a highly decorative note.

GROW A VICTORY GARDEN

YOU can help prevent disastrous forest fires

CARELESSNESS starts more than 200,000 forest fires in the United States every year.

Carelessness destroys millions upon millions of feet of timber, now a critical war material. It cripples watersheds that supply hydro-electric power to war industries. And the fighting of forest fires diverts precious labor from factories and farms.

Many persons who start these fires toss away matches and cigarettes that aren't dead out. Many others burn to clear plow land or logging slash or grass or debris and—the fires they started break away into searing, roaring flames that destroy timber, forage, wildlife, and beauty that may never be replaced.

Each of these persons forgot—for a moment. And each thoughtless act was as destructive as if it had been the act of a saboteur.

YOU can prevent forest fires by observing the rules outlined here when you are in the woods by seeing that fare points out that no one should be discouraged from canning non-acid fruits and vegetables, but should learn how to do it right. Later, when the food is to be eaten, the further precaution of boiling the product for 15 minutes after opening is advised.

The University of California at Berkeley has issued a bulletin under the title of "Home Canning," circular No. 276, which will be sent upon request.

VICTORY RATE

Arthur J. Bodien, superintendent of the Daly City Water Works, estimated today that more than eight hundred consumers here had availed themselves of the city council's offer of reduced water rates for Victory garden use. His staff has been very busy inspecting applicants' properties. Final deadline for applying for the allowance was July 1.

The council unanimously adopted a resolution in May, which made possible a reduced rate to residents of the community who were growing Victory gardens to help meet the food shortage. The special rate was allowed in the form of a credit on the regular water bill. The special consideration did not apply to commercial gardens or to properties outside the city limits.

Summertime baking— an economy measure

Kitchen pretty warm these days? Let the oven do most of your cooking work this summer! It's easier—and by the way, summertime baking is really an economy measure. Just think of the ways meat can be stretched with the aid of the oven... shortcakes, meat pies, and oh, so many other ways! Use meat drippings for shortening, and let the good flavor carry the meal forward.

BISCUITS—Let those meat drippings get firm in the refrigerator, then use them for making biscuits for meat shortcakes. Creamed hamburger is a grand topping. Or cut link sausages into small slices, fry them and make a gravy from the drippings and serve them over the biscuits.

MEAT PIES—Use the same kind of biscuit dough made with drippings for a covering for meat pie. Use leftover meat or small pieces of precooked meat, vegetables of your choice and enough thickened juice from the meat or vegetables to give moisture to the pie filling. Cover with biscuit dough and bake in a hot oven (450° F.) until the crust is rich, golden brown.

SUMMERTIME STUFFING—Ever think of serving stuffing in place of potatoes... even though you haven't anything to stuff? It is really something the family will like. For 3 cups of bread crumbs, add 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. pepper, sage or other seasoning to taste, saute sliced green onions, tops and all, and 1/2 cup meat drippings. Mix and pack into loaf pan or ring mold. (An egg or 1/2 cup of evaporated milk enriches and binds the stuffing together.) Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for about one-half hour or until browned slightly. Serve as a meat accompaniment.

ECONOMY CAKE—Sift 2 cups all-purpose flour with 2 1/2 tps. baking powder, 1 tsp. cinnamon and 1/4 tsp. cloves. Cream together 3 tps. shortening and 3 tps. meat drippings and add 1 cup of sugar gradually, creaming until smooth. Add 1 egg and beat well, then add flour mixture alternately with 3/4 cup milk. Then add 1 tsp. vanilla or other flavoring. Bake in greased layer cake pans or muffin tins in moderate oven (375° F.) for about 25 minutes or until done. Fill layers if desired with chopped raisins and honey mixture.

MOLASSES COOKIES—Use those meat drippings in your favorite recipe for molasses cookies. You'll get an honest-to-goodness old-fashioned flavor. And the cookies make grand accompaniments to fresh fruit.

VICTORY CANNING AND DRYING are current topics of conversation. Julia Lee Wright's article in this week's Family Circle tells you how to go about it. Helpful hints on sun and oven drying and jelly and jam making will make summer canning a pleasure.

Bank Of America Makes Statement

Reflecting the prosperity of California under war conditions, the statement of condition of Bank of America as of June 30, 1943, reveals that resources of the bank have passed the three billion dollar milestone.

Total resources were $3,127,637,000, a gain of $984,435,000 over a year ago. Deposits attained the historic peak of $2,937,266,000, an increase of $978,835,000 over a year ago and an increase of $351,125,000 since December 31, 1942.

Loans and discounts outstanding, which aggregated $777,652,000, decreased $62,817,000, while investments and securities, amounting to $1,707,431,000, increased $441,681,000 over December 31, 1942. This increase was almost entirely in United States Government securities, bringing the bank's total investment in such securities to $1,470,535,000.

Earnings for the half year, after operating expenses and accruals for taxes, were $14,278,000. From this total, $2,637,000 was reserved for depreciation of bank premises and amortization of bond premiums and $2,181,000 was set up in reserves and applied to the absorption of losses and the revaluation of assets. After payment of $5,207,000 in dividends at the annual rate of $2.40 per share on the common stock and $2.00 per share on the preferred stock, and after profit-sharing bonus to employees, capital funds were increased from earnings for the six months period by $3,856,000. This, with the dividend, is equal to an annual rate of approximately $4.33 per share on the common stock.

Following the policy previously established, one half of the net increase in undivided profits for the period was transferred to unallocated reserve for war contingencies.

Capital funds, including reserves, now total $161,525,000, which is an increase of $1,123,000 for the half year ended June 30, 1943, after the utilization of $2,733,200 to retire 54,664 shares of preferred stock during the period.

President L. M. Giannini commented that Bank of America was continuing to direct all its energies and resources to maximum support of the war effort. "At the same time," he said, "we are not overlooking the necessity for planning and laying the foundation for support to all industrial, agricultural and business activity in the approaching post-war period. We are preparing to render every possible assistance to the reconversion processes and the continuance of a high rate of industrial employment in California."

Recorder's Report

Births, marriages, and deaths all showed an increase in June, 1943, as compared to June, 1942, according to figures released by T. C. Rice, San Mateo county recorder, this week.

In 1942 there were 101 births, 89 marriages, and 96 deaths in June; while in 1943, June saw the arrival of 130 babies and there were 130 marriages and 112 deaths.

COMPANY REPORTS

Lyle M. Brown, division manager of the telephone company, said that telephone users here would be interested in the statement by N. R. Powley, president of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, accompanying the dividend checks mailed today to common shareholders. Powley stated:

"Telephone demands for additional service, both exchange and long distance, continue at new high levels.

"Government regulations now in effect further restrict the amount of new material that may be used for the installation of telephones, provision being made, as formerly, for putting first the installation of telephones required for war and essential civilian purposes.

"The increase in long distance traffic continues to be extremely heavy, especially on the longer hauls to and from war activity centers. Although every effort is being made to handle all calls with efficiency and dispatch, the unabated increase in traffic subjects more and more calls to delay. We have, therefore, recently intensified our advertising program urging that the public refrain, so far as possible, from making long distance calls to and from war activity centers. We are also urging the public, whenever circuits are extra busy, to limit conversations to five minutes in order that we may be of all possible service to others who may be waiting. The voluntary responses on the part of our many patrons, which we gratefully acknowledge, bespeak a most helpful attitude and sympathetic understanding. Our every endeavor or is dedicated toward our company playing its full and effective part in our nation's all-out war effort.

"There are now more than 4,000 of our personnel in the Armed Forces as compared with the more than 1,400 a year ago."

I'm Dehydrating fruits and vegetables

But FIRST... I learned what I should not do and what I should do

• Drying of fruits and vegetables can be done in the home by means of a dehydrator cabinet equipped with a proper type electric heater or on trays in your kitchen range. It takes careful preparation of foods to be dried, plus time, patience and constant attention or the food will be spoiled and wasted. Below is a list of some of the should and should not precautions to take in drying food at home.

I SHOULD select vegetables and fruits carefully, using only fresh, firm produce.

I should work quickly to keep produce in full flavor.

I should steam-blanch all foods until they are tender.

I should place the blanched foods on drying trays in half-inch layer.

I should dry at correct temperature at full time for each specific food.

I should stir or turn foods being dried and rotate position of trays.

I should store dried food in clean dry containers which are absolutely moisture, air and insect-proof.

I should be sure vegetables are brittle-dry like shredded wheat.

I should examine my stored dried food at least once every week.

I should store dried foods in a cool, dark, dry place.

I SHOULD NOT try to dry wilted, bruised, overripe or decayed produce.

I should not keep the cut-up fruits and vegetables too long in a warm kitchen.

I should not fail to use full time in steam blanching to seal in flavor and vitamins.

I should not crowd foods on drying trays.

I should not guess at time and temperature for drying, but follow chart.

I should not dry food like roasting. Food must be dried evenly on all sides.

I should not take any chance with improper dried food storage or the food will become sour or wormy.

I should not stop drying until 95% moisture is dried out.

I should not expect dried food to keep indefinitely.

I should not allow the dried foods to get warm or be exposed to the light.

ELECTRICITY IS WAR POWER DO NOT WASTE IT!

Successful home drying depends upon efficient equipment, the quality and kind of vegetables and fruits and the careful adherence to rules in every step in the process, including storage. Do not rush into dehydration unless you intend to work hard at it. As a first step come into any P. G. & E. office for the free booklet on "Home Drying of Fruits and Vegetables."

TIME OUT FOR SUMMER RELAXATION

By BETTY BARCLAY

Have you tried Fresh Lemon Oatmeal Cookies with cooling lemonade when the weather is warm and your spirits need a "lift"? Well, it's a two-some worth repeating often throughout the summer months for its refreshing healthful qualities provide a taste thrill irresistible to young and old.

It's economical to serve these refreshments, too, because each lemon does "double duty". After grating the waxy-textured yellow lemon peel to use as an important ingredient in the cookies, the juice from these lemons may be extracted for preparing the lemonade and, likewise, the lemon peel used as cookie decorations may be secured from juice extracted lemons.

Lemons have long been known for their health protecting vitamins B and C and during hot weather this latter vitamin is most important to obtain in large quantities for it is the vitamin that helps to counteract fatigue and is rapidly lost from body tissues when exposed to high temperatures. So because vitamin C cannot be stored in the body, it must be provided daily with special emphasis on large quantities when the thermometer rises and cooling lemonade is a delightful way to increase the intake of vitamin C.

Lemonade is a beverage even a child can prepare. For each person extract the juice from one lemon. Add sugar to taste and stir to dissolve. Add one cup water and serve over ice in a large glass. Garnish with lemon slices and maraschino cherries or with fresh cherries, berries or mint sprigs.

As an accompaniment to this beverage, tangy, crunchy cookies are just the thing these days. Fresh Lemon Oatmeal cookies are easy on rationed things like butter and sugar; they're easy to make and they're easy to bake. The crunchiness of whole-grain oatmeal united with the zest of the fresh lemon juice and grated yellow peel used in the cookie ingredients, provides health in every bite. The whole grain oats furnish vitamin B₁, proteins, phosphorus, and iron and again the lemon furnishes the benefits already mentioned.

Here's the way we prepare them:

- Fresh Lemon Oatmeal Cookies
- 1/2 cup shortening
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 2 eggs, unbeaten
 - 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
 - 3 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 3 tablespoons water
 - 1 cup sifted flour
 - 1 1/2 cups quick or regular, uncooked oats
 - 3 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon salt
1. Cream shortening, gradually add sugar, creaming until light and fluffy.
 2. Add eggs and beat vigorously.
 3. Add lemon juice and grated lemon peel and water.
 4. Sift together flour, salt and baking powder.
 5. Add sifted dry ingredients and oats, mixing well.
 6. Drop from a teaspoon onto a greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 12-15 minutes. Decorate tops of cookies with bits of lemon peel.

Anticipate Small Beef Supply; Raise Point Value

With the amount of beef available for civilians in July expected to be the smallest since rationing began, it was necessary to curtail consumption further by increasing the ration values of beef cuts by one point, effective July 4, the Office of Price Administration announced, this week.

The new point value for beef, which places the ration cost of most preferred cuts at from nine to thirteen points per pound, appear on the fourth official table of consumer point values for meats, fats, fish and dairy products.

The table, which lists the point values of red-stamp foods rationed under the meats-fats program (ration order 16), is effective from July 4 to August 1.

In addition to the higher point values for beef, the table also shows rises of from one to two points in a few cuts of veal, lamb and mutton. These include leg of veal, veal cutlets, veal loin and rib chops, and similar lamb-mutton cuts.

The revised point values were determined after conferences between Office of Price Administration and Department of Agriculture officials regarding available civilian supplies of meats for the July-September quarter.

Canned fish items, with the exception of canned oysters, are raised to 12 points per pound, an increase of four points. Oysters are listed at five points per pound, up two points from the June table.

Reductions in point values are confined for the most part to the fats, oils and dairy products group. Margarine and lard, both reduced one point, are set at four points per pound, while "process" butter—butter which has been reworked to improve its quality—has been cut to four points from eight. Other types of butter remain at eight points.

Cheddar cheese retains a value of eight points per pound but lower values are established for group II and III cheeses, both of which are reduced one point. Group II comprising cream, neufchatel, and creamed cottage cheese (containing more than 5 per cent butter fat), are listed at two points per pound. Group III, made up of Swiss, brick munster and all other rationed cheeses, is set at five points per pound.

are three pork cuts — fat backs and clear plates, jowls and regular plates. These fat meats may be used as a substitute for lard and are decreased in point value to maintain a normal relationship with lard.

The OPA stated the current supply picture does not warrant reductions in other meats to offset the slight increase in beef point values. As a result, it was stated, the average housewife must buy those meats which are relatively cheaper in points than beef items if she is to avoid a cut in the purchasing power of her red stamps.

Officials stated that the supplies of pork available during July are expected to be substantially larger than beef. Consequently, OPA is continuing to encourage consumption of pork by keeping many cuts relatively cheap as regards ration points.

A one point cut in the point cost of lard is possible, it was explained, as demand has not kept pace with the amount allocated for civilian use by the War Food Administration.

The four point increase in canned fish items (except oysters) is necessary, it was stated, as demand at the present eight point value has been considerably greater than present supplies will permit. Moreover, during the summer more fresh fish is available as a substitute for the canned varieties.

Meat, with its elements of proteins, B vitamins and minerals, is needed in the balanced diet for servicemen and civilians alike. That's a big reason why today's demands, together with present market conditions, have brought on our rationing program.

We know it's discouraging to try to buy sufficient meat for your family, today. But it is important that the nation's health be maintained so the total war effort may not be hampered.

We dealers have had troubles increased many times over, too. And not the least of these is caused by the genuine interest we take in trying to protect our customers in every way possible. There's nothing we leave undone which may aid in solving your meat-buying problems.
